

HURTLING TO HOUNDS

By Deirdre Hanna

Illustrated by
Rosemary Coates©

The perfect book to get us all out beagling again or to enjoy by the fireside at the end of the day!

There are four chapters in this colourful picture book, the pictures having been drawn mostly from photographs. The first chapter covers the moments when hounds pick up the line. Next you will see the adventures enjoyed by the field as they do their best to stay with hounds. In the third chapter – everyone starts home for tea. The last chapter pictures what you might wear in order to try and keep dry and warm during the day - in other words - the best hunting clothes for the worst possible weather!

As with the Hound Intelligence Series, Rosemary Coates has given us an absolutely super picture book to look at.
